(a) Type of grant or assistance	(b) Number of recipients	(c) Amount of cash grant	(d) Amount of non-cash assistance	(e) Method of valuation (book, FMV, appraisal, other)	(f) Description of non-cash assistance

Part IV Supplemental Information. Provide the information required in Part I, line 2, Part III, column (b), and any other additional information.

Part I, Line 2:

The grant-making department manages the solicitation, review and award of grants to applicant organizations. The grant-making department requires documentation of exempt or tribal government status, a budget and narrative of the grantee's proposal and other relevant information. A First Nations committee reviews applications for consistency with First Nations' program objectives and other factors. Terms and conditions of each grant are documented and signed both by First Nations and the grantee. The terms and conditions require programmatic and financial reports from the grantee.

Part IV Supplemental Information

The grant-making department monitors compliance with grant terms and conditions, including timely receipt of required reports. Normally grant funds are disbursed in multiple payments: initial payment follows receipt of signed terms and conditions, and subsequent payments are held until required reports are received, often halfway through and at the end of the grant period.

colleges and community development financial institutions (CDFIs), we share ideas through peer learning and we finance program development through our grant making program. Working with our national and regional partners, we have helped share information about household asset-building programs such as Individual Development Accounts, Children's Savings Accounts, and Volunteer Income Tax Assistance sites. We also conduct research on issues related to predatory lending in Native communities and work to raise awareness of this problem. First Nations' programs help move families and communities toward financial security. To create systemic economic change, First Nations also works with Native American communities to develop new businesses and services, and reclaim direct control of assets. We seek to help communities understand, create and control the way in which Native assets are valued, as well as the decision-making process in deciding whether to monetize those assets.

Achieving Native Financial Empowerment - First Nations and its independent subsidiary, First Nations Oweesta Corporation (a community development financial institution), work in partnership with Native American tribes and communities throughout the U.S. to assist them in designing and administering financial and investor education programs. Our projects range from helping individuals and families understand the basics of financial management - opening and maintaining a bank account and using credit wisely - to helping individuals understand financial markets and a variety of financial instruments for borrowing and saving. Learning how to manage finances ensures that Native people will be more likely to save and invest. Our programs result in increased
